

Regent Cottage

3200 Regent Road, Topping, VA

Built in 1999 as the owners' weekend retreat, Regent Cottage is a nautical Craftsman-style home on a hill overlooking Locklies Creek and the Rappahannock River. Surrounding the pool and home are beds of flowering shrubs and perennials. St John's Wort, Abelia, Hydrangeas, and Lenten Roses surround the property.

The Corner

42 Mill Creek Road, Wake, VA

An oysterman's watch house that once reigned over local oyster beds at Stingray Point now overlooks a dramatic outdoor space surrounding this Dutch Colonial home built by the owner's family in 1978. An addition to the back portion of the home is a large conservatory with a stunning fireplace that faces both inward and outward toward the gardens. Inside the conservatory, designed by Robert Ketner, are nooks with comfortable seating upholstered in plush navy velvets and floral patterns.

Cupalow

1273 North End Road, Deltaville, VA

This four-acre home is located near the end of Old North End Wharf and occupies a high vantage point above the river, perfect for the homeowners love of gardening, historical homes, and rural life. Built in 1867 and featuring two spacious porches, the home is constructed of rough sawed lumber lapped with large timbers. The art in many rooms represents the numerous places the couple has lived. A number of the portraits that adorn the walls were painted by one of the homeowners, who is an
