47 QUEENS COURT

The sophisticated and open design of the yard plays on the home's style and extension to outdoor entertaining. The clean lines emphasize texture and contrast with simple curves, defining walkways, setting areas and planting beds. Plantings are architectural with sculptural Japanese maples, shrubs and statues adding to the rhythm and cohesive atmosphere.

43 QUEENS COURT

Deeply connected to nature, the back deck feels like a quiet discovery. Designed to preserve natural character of the land it feels, serene and untouched. Softly enclosed with layers of native trees, grasses and shrubs it blends into the landscape with plants overlapping and growing in loose patterns. Views of the James River allow a heightened feeling of a retreat while enjoying birdsong and the rustle of the trees.

70 SETTLERS ROAD

The outdoor space and back patio read as a living canvas. Bright and inviting, it is flooded with warm sunlight that pours in from morning through afternoon. The yard is colorful and constantly evolving with the season, creating a cheerful, everyday connection between indoor life and outdoors. Planters and garden beds surround the patio, overflowing with seasonal blooms from spring bulbs to flowering shrubs and summer perennials. From the kitchen it feels like an extension of the home with windows drawing the eye outward and filling the kitchen with reflective light.

2 ASSEMBLY COURT

The carefully landscaped backyard is expansive yet calm. Defined by cool dappled shade of mature trees that stretch across the space, creating a native canopy overhead. Sunlight filters through to give the yard a tranquil and park like setting. Thoughtfully designed outdoor spaces encourage lingering for groups or relaxing alone. Paths guide you through the yard without interrupting its natural flow. Shade loving plants are lush and layered, providing a soft atmosphere.
